KAISER WANTS PEACE WITH U. S., SAYS ENVOY; WILSON DETERMINED TO PROTECT AMERICANS

BERLIN, (Via London, May 29)—Germany's answer to the American note was delivered to Ambassador Gerard this morning. The German reply avoids decisive statements in regard to the questions raised by the United States pending a further exchange of views.

Berlin, May 29—The German reply to the American note expresses regret for "unintentional attacks" on the American steamers Gulfight and Cushing and offers to give compensation in any cases in which Germany is found to be in the wrong. Germany suggests that cases in dispute be referred to The Hague for decision.

Washington, May 29—Ambassador Gerard reported today that while the German reply to the American note had not yet been delivered to him, he knew that it contained a request for an agreement on the facts in the Lusitania case.

Ambassador Gerard has been sending dispatches regularly, concerning the probable contents of the German note but these have been guarded with the greatest secrecy, inasmuch as the German government itself was said not to have finally decided on the details of its reply and officials did not desire to complicate the situation by any personal conjectures as to what the note would contain before the full text was available. That the German government, however, had decided to ask for an agreement on the facts in the Lusitania case—whether she was an auxiliary cruiser on the British naval list and carried a cargo of war munitions and explosives, and whether she was armed with guns mounted or dismounted—was indicated in some of the ambassador's dispatches in line with press reports from the German capital.

Officials were unwilling to make any comment on the reception of such a proposal but in well informed quarters, however, it is believed the German government's statement of its understanding of the facts will be met promptly with a statement of the American government's information and a counter proposal that while the discussion is in progress there shall be an abatement of attacks on American ves-

WILSON TO WARN MEXICAN LEADERS

Washington, May 29—President Wilson's forthcoming statement on the Mexican situation will contain a detailed review of conditions and serve as a warning to the factional leaders that the United States will insist on an improvement of the internal situation.

Washington, May 29—Attention was again focused today upon Mexico as the result of President Wilson's determination to warn the Mexican leaders that conditions in the southern republic must improve. The president's forthcoming pronouncement was awaited with the keenest interest. Its contents are known only to officials who decline to reveal what it contains, except to say that recognition of any faction is not contemplated. Possibility of intervention was laid again as the result of the few turns in Mexican affairs. The president's decision became known in an appeal issued as head of the Red Cross urging contributions to relieve destitute people of Mexico. After conferring with Doral West, just back from Mexico, President Wilson declared last Tuesday that there would be no change in his Mexican policy. But more recent events brought about a determination to act. These include the seizure by Carranza

ADVISES CAUTION IN ENTERING WAR ZONE

Washington, May 29—An urgent warning to American shipping against traversing the naval war zone incautiously and to have all neutral markings displayed as conspicuously as possible, including illumination at night, was communicated today by the German government through the American embassy at Berlin.

The German warning was announced in the following statement made public by the state department: "The American ambassador at Berlin has been informed by the German foreign office that in view of the fact that during the past few weeks it has repeatedly occurred that neutral ships have authorities of large quantities of corn purchased by the International Relief Committee and the inability of the authorities at Vera Cruz and Mexico City to provide the protection for supplies to succor the ever increasing bread line.

It was said that the present action was not intended to assist any of the warring factions in Mexico at the expense of another but to demand, in effect, that they reach a prompt solution of their troubles, or at least provide for the sustenance of the starving population. In connection with conditions in Mexico the American Red Cross has issued a statement describing them as "appalling." "Great numbers of unfortunate people are victims of the long continued fighting," says the statement. "They have been facing starvation, for months and now have reached an acute stage when only food supplies can save them from death."

ITALIANS TAKE TOWN; LONDON ADMITS GAINS BY GERMANY'S HOSTS

SIX ARE BURIED IN MINE

Fairmont, W. Va., May 29—Six foreign miners were buried under a fall of slate and earth in Mine 9 of the Jamison Coal company here today. Two were taken out dead and hospital doctors said that two others of the injured will probably die.

ZEPPELIN HIT, DROPS INTO SEA

Geneva, Switzerland, May 29—A dispatch received here this morning from Friedrichshafen on Lake Constance, sets forth that one of the Zeppelin airships which three days ago raided the town of South End, at the mouth of Thames 40 miles east of London was struck by one of the British shells fired at it. Owing to the resultant loss of gas it was unable to reach the mainland and fell into the sea off Heligoland.

Whether the crew was saved is not known. Orders have been received at Friedrichshafen to replace the loss of this vessel with a Zeppelin of the newest type. Such an airship, recently completed, will leave Friedrichshafen shortly.

ENGLAND AWAITS GERMANY'S REPLY TO WILSON'S NOTE

Geneva, Switzerland, May 29—(Via Paris)—The Italians after a severe fight along the frontier north of Lake Idro have captured the town of Storo and are now bombarding Riva.

On the eastern front, north of the Gulf of Trieste, bayonet fighting is in progress south of Gorizia. The Austrians are retreating slowly. Italian forces have arrived before Gradisca, about 16 miles from Trieste. The Italian authorities issued an order last night prohibiting Austrians and Germans from leaving the country.

London, May 29—The reply of the Imperial German government to the note of the United States concerning the sinking of the Lusitania is awaited with keen interest in England. The belief is general that Berlin will endeavor to gain time by the discussion of debatable points in the questions at issue.

Terrific fighting is continuing

SUBMARINES SINK THREE MORE SHIPS

Some scientist is authority for the notion that I'm here! I tell him he's don't know beans about it. C. & O. SECRETS DISCUSSED
IN 'SAND HOUSE' CIRCLES

Adding to the rumor printed in The Times concerning the talk of L. L. Scherer being boosted by the Ashland Independent says:

"According to the latest C. & O. 'sand-house' talk L. L. Scherer, general claim agent, will be made general manager of the road at a meeting of the high officials to be held at White Sulphur, Va., the latter part of June and will assume his new duties commencing July 1.

"This information, which is said to come from the 'inner circles' is not yet generally circulated, hence will cause somewhat of a sensation in C. & O. circles, as Mr. Scherer's name has not been mentioned in this connection before.

"It is said his appointment has the approval of the chairman of the board of directors.

"Mr. Scherer has been connected with the C. & O. company for many years and is claimed as one of its most trusted and able employees. He stands very close to President Stevens and the other prominent officials.

"It is believed that the blunder up will result in several new faces being seen in important offices, but just whose they will be, is a matter of speculation at this time.

"It is known that everything is not peace and harmony among the powers that control the road, and that it has not been for several years, a fact that was demonstrated by the bringing of Geo. P. Johnson to the road as general manager, and his subsequent resignation before he had a chance to place in full force the policy which he mapped out when he came to the C. & O. from the N. & W., of which road his father is president.

"It is understood that Mr. Johnson, if he had been permitted to have done so, would have made many changes in the method of transacting the road's business and that as a result some officials who have been with the company for many years, would have been retired or been given different positions. A number of changes along these lines were made by the new general manager, but naturally they met with strong opposition, so strong in fact, that the pressure became so heavy from certain quarters that Mr. Johnson resigned.

"Nearly all the men who were affected by Mr. Johnson's course have 'come back' and just 'who's who' now is expected to develop following the meeting of the official board and other officials at White Sulphur."

Iron Worker Praises Duffy's

Here's a case of a structural iron worker who suffered severe stomach trouble, but thanks to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he is almost ready to resume his hazardous calling:

"For many weeks I was laid up sick in bed in the hospital with stomach trouble which gradually wore me away to a mere skeleton. The hospital treatment did not seem to improve me, so my doctor said I would not get well and told my people to take me home, as there was nothing any one on this earth could do for me. When I reached home my doctor ordered me to be fed on a tablespoonful of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey every two hours. After taking Duffy's for over one week, without another morsel of food entering my system, I began to have a longing for something to eat, and to my surprise found I could keep a little ordinary food on my stomach, and gradually I regained my former appetite and felt better. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the cause for my present good state of health, and my doctor says I will soon be able to go back to my trade of structural iron worker. I am not afraid of the truth and I hope others will benefit from the use of Duffy's the same as myself."—Thomas Satchell, 275 Tillary St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

may be relied upon in extreme cases where other foods are rejected. When taken as directed just before meals, it assists in keeping healthy the essential functions of digestion because it induces activity in the flow of gastric juices so the food you eat will digest naturally. This action on the digestive process is of great importance as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nutrient necessary to their existence and indirectly to the whole system, strength and vigor. It's a medicine for all mankind, and you, too, can

A Fashion Hint

An innovation that has proved very satisfactory is the arranging of aprons so that they may be used during the warm weather as either a dress or an apron. Such a garment is shown in the drawing, and it is easy and inexpensive to develop and will launder nicely.

SOCIETY

George Edwards of the Portsmouth Hat company has as guests his brother, Dr. T. F. Edwards, and wife and son Thomas, of Cincinnati, and his sister, Mrs. Susie Alexandrin, and son Charles, of Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buchanan and baby daughter, Mary Joann, of 1807 Summit street, will spend Decoration Day with Mrs. Buchanan's mother, Mrs. Mary Marsh, of South Webster.

Misses Rose and Mary Glatz, of Fourth street, left Saturday for Columbus to visit their sister, Mrs. Ellis Belcher.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Starks and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powers and daughter, Winifred, left in the Starks automobile Saturday for Dayton and Milledgeville.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bierley of Hutchins street, motored to Manchester Saturday and will remain there until Tuesday with friends.

Mrs. Leonard Knowles, who had been visiting relatives here for four weeks, left Saturday for her home in Davenport, Iowa.

The Kilt in History.
The Scottish kilt, as an article of dress, dates back to historic times, and was originally, so far as can be figured out, merely a plaid blanket worn about the shoulders with one end gathered about the loins in cold weather. The mountaineers of the Balkans wear the kilt, and students say that the soldiers of the Assyrian kings wore a costume very closely akin to the kilt of Scotland.

Quite Familiar With Child Life.
The impassioned press agent this week displays a remarkable intimacy with child life. He describes a coming big novelty as being "a gorgeous scene in production in costume," in which is used "real hot famy lily which does not seem to burn the lady and gentleman on the stage, who play with it as a child does its toys, even going so far as to apparently eat it."—Kansas City Star.

CAPABLE WOMEN AND WHAT THEY ARE DOING

MRS. GEORGE A. CALLISON

"It is not every woman who can act as her husband's substitute in business as well as successfully run his house and bring up his children, but Mrs. George A. Callison, wife of the Governor of Colorado, has accomplished this feat. She studied law and became her husband's assistant to such a degree of satisfaction that when he was ill recently she became acting Governor pro tem. Mrs. Callison is a worker in women's measures and believes that women are mentally and physically able to hold office unless they themselves feel that it interferes with home efficiency."

A Woman Judge.
A woman seems peculiarly fitted to act as a judge of the women who pass through the Police Court, and it is her Juvenile Court experience which has enabled Mary M. Hartline, of Chicago, to be such an efficient judge and so well beloved of the offenders who are brought before her.

Women as State Senators.
Among the American women who think a woman should vote and have some interests outside the home is Mrs. Helen Kling Robinson, who is entering her second term as State Senator in Colorado. Mrs. Robinson was for several years the only woman Senator in this country, but there are now several others.

A Large Greenhouse.
What would you think of twelve acres of glass? Quite an estate in itself isn't it? And yet that is the size of the greenhouse on the prize farm of Mrs. O. C. Barber, wife of the "Match King," who has devoted that part of her husband's $2,000 acres to the cultivation of hot-house grapes, peaches, vegetables and orchids and carnations.

Goes to College at Sixty-Three.
Mrs. E. S. Wilson, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who is sixty-three years old, has entered the State School of Agriculture and completed the farmer's short course. Other women, many of them about the same age, were among the 275 persons who registered for the course this year. Mrs. Wilson is taking a special course in bee culture. She has for several years attended to that branch of the work, on the farm of her husband, and though she is noted as a successful culturist she takes all the instruction the school has to offer each year.

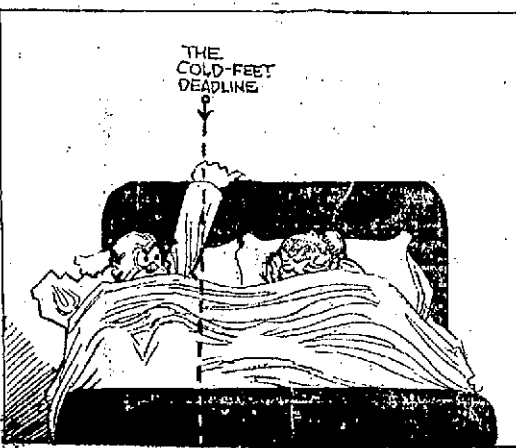

MRS. HELEN KING ROBINSON

"The bee industry is getting to be an important part of our work," said Mrs. Robinson when asked her reason for taking this course. "I want to keep up to date. Bees and school days, now and then, will keep one young." Mrs. Helen Robinson, sixty years old, of the same city, and Mrs. Frank A. Weld, wife of the head of the State Normal School at Northwood, Minnesota, were also registered for the course.

WITH THE SICK

Mrs. Jerry Roden, of 1531 Waller street, has returned from a two weeks visit at Barnesville, O., where she was called by the serious illness of her father, L. J. Dallas.

Mrs. Frank Hasselmann of 1319 Center street is ill with appendicitis. She will be operated upon early next week. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Will Hasselmann, of New Boston, is attending her.

Adam Gleim, of Wheelersburg, who has been suffering with neuritis and malaria, is convalescing. He was able to sit up Saturday. His daughter, Miss Cora Gleim, a trained nurse, is attending him.

Caesar and Napoleon.
"Caesar ran great risks in the enterprises into which his bold spirit impelled him," Napoleon said at St. Helena. "He came out of them successfully through his genius. His battles in the Civil war were real battles. Up to my time France still felt his influence."

THE ACCEPTED TIME IS NOW.

Portsmouth, Ohio, May 24, 1915.

Editors "Portsmouth Daily Times."

You seem to stand for good things always through the columns of your paper. Will you not come to the aid of Portsmouth just now and with the help of your many friends, save what seems to be ruthlessly destroyed? We refer to the tract of land north of Attorney Theo. K. Funk's property and northeast of "Sunnyside," extending to the Boulevard road.

Portsmouth seems destined to become a large city sometime. When it is too late, she may find herself as other cities have, confronted by the park problem and then at great expense and needless destruction of perfectly good property, attempt to make a good looking park on level ground.

Many who have traveled extensively not only in America, but also abroad say that the views from various spots in this section, at different times of the day when the lights and shadows bring out the wonderful beauty of the Kentucky hills and of the Ohio country for miles around, equal anything that may be found, not excepting the Alps in Switzerland.

We thought it a terrible loss when "Sunnyside" was opened up at the expense of the beautiful old trees and hills that money nor time can replace, but it seems a criminal thing to do, if this last section of such character that is within walking distance of Portsmouth people, is torn down and made into city lots.

Much is said just now of keeping the dollar at home. Why not keep some of the beauty and health giving resources also?

Our people are running off to Colorado, to the Canadian Rockies, to California and elsewhere and say that they suffer a keen disappointment to find much advertised places very ordinary compared to such beauty as is given in this open section in winter as well as summer.

Had California or anyone of numerous other places such a tract, they would guard jealously the boundaries and see to it that no man added anything to mar its natural form and beauty, and with a bit of advertising would make such a place become of national fame.

Hundreds of people are willing to support this movement we believe. We want to keep our people from going money mad and then running away to spend that money.

The city will soon run beyond the Boulevard. Why not let it go there now, rather than destroy this which could never in all the world be replaced and if it were gone, there is absolutely no other such place available.

Why does humanity wait for death to come before they can become generous in word and deed? Why do we erect so many useless monuments that are of questionable value? What a monument, such a gift to Portsmouth's living population this would be to any man or group of men who will bring about the transaction.

We feel confident that the men who own this land are public spirited and great enough to make the necessary steps practicable. It simply must be saved, and what you do, do quickly for the surveyors are rapidly staking it off and we shudder to think how short the time might be until all would be lost forever.

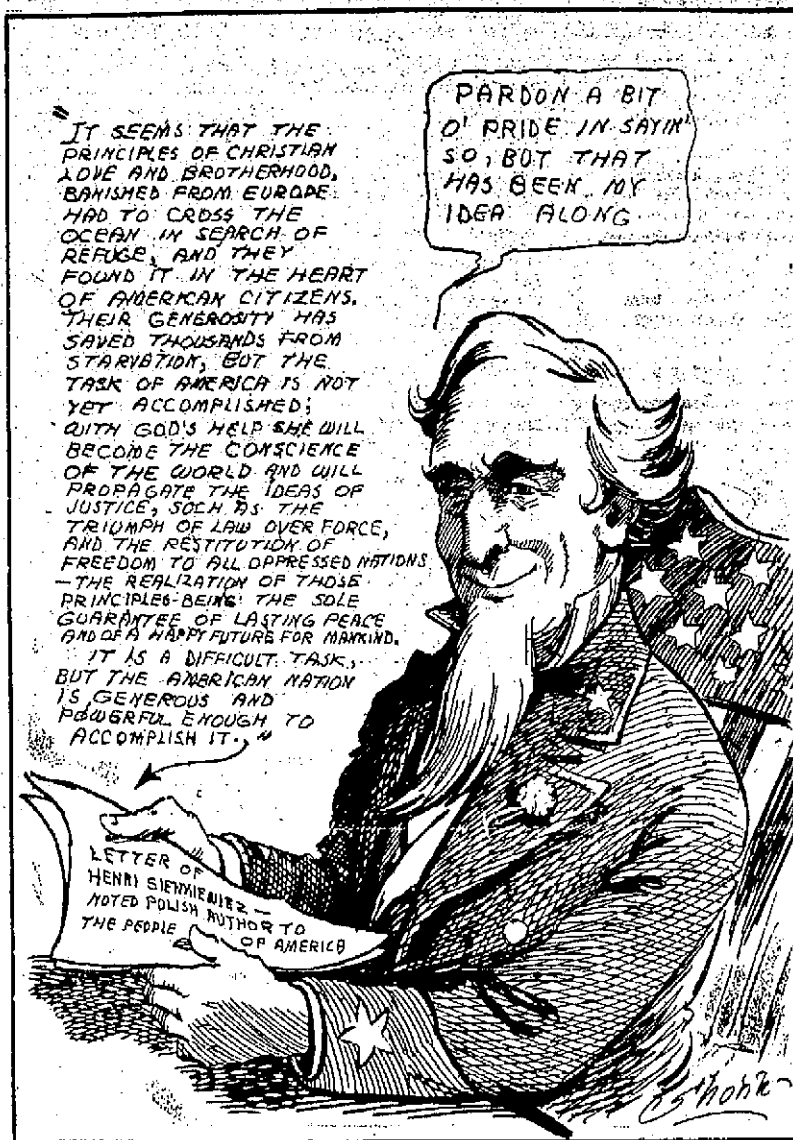

Yours for a greater, more beautiful Portsmouth.

A GROUP OF CITIZENS.

We must say we never, in all our newspaper career, had presented an appeal that takes such powerful hold upon us as this. Not alone because we are in such acute sympathy with the suggestion, but because it is so convincingly put. Columns might be written on the same subject, but they could add nothing in effectiveness to what our friends have put in a few words and fewer paragraphs.

If anyone believe their language overdrawn we suggest to him that he visit the site referred to three times, in the early morn, at the noon time and at sunset. Travel the world over and no where else will nature unfold a panorama that will take such intense and penetrating hold upon his memory and his soul. We know, because we have seen much of that which is accounted the world's grandest and most beautiful scenery, but never have we beheld that which took such haunting hold upon us as this. In joy and in sorrow, in health and in sickness, through the years that have brought change and even much of forgetfulness, it has been a vivid, abiding memory, aye, a presence that has ever been sweet and solacing. The hills, the valleys, the rivers, the green, the golden, the silver, ever changing, ever coming and going, yet always the same, always steadfast, the eternal smile of welcome in the waving of boughs, the rippling of the waters and the whisperings of the winds.

Verily, it is a priceless gift that nature has set right at our door. Can not, will not something be done to preserve it, so that there for all time nature's children may come closer to her?

AND NOW THE FIGURES.

Figures will not lie, but men that figure sometimes will give them queer twist.

In the last ill-starred campaign a certain individual went roaring over the state that the Cox machine had bankrupted the state and the treasury was somewhat drier than old time powder horn. Now just listen to the figures. Treasurer Archer has just issued the official statement of the transaction of his office for the past six months. These show that more interest had been received during that period than in any other like one since Ohio had a state treasury. The total receipts—interest on cash on hand, mind you—$237,240.62. It doesn't take a financier to understand that a sum which, in six months, will bring the magnificent total of near a quarter of a million dollars of interest in six months, especially when the rate runs as low as 2 per cent and not as high as five, must be a colossal one. As yet the particular individual, who bewailed the bankruptcy of the treasury by the wicked Cox offers no explanation and no apology for his deception, though he does much plume himself on being altogether good.

The executive office is still insisting that the contractors shall turn over a water works what will work. Such persistency is not only to be admired, but it makes more flagrant the happy-go-lucky way in which another administration allowed the contractors not to do their work.

One lustrous prediction shines through the clouds of war and that is the apple crop is to be bigger this year than ever. If monarchs and princes would contract the habit of eating at least two apples every night before going to bed there would be no wars.

There are four thousand languages spoken on earth. We have known occasions when all their objurgations, if we had had them at command, would have been inadequate to proper expression.

Big, lusty Uncle Sam says to the Kaiser: What are you submerging my people for and all the little fellows from Switzerland to Sweden pipe "Me too!"

Mr. Bierley To Sell Lots

H. A. Bierley will go to Columbus the first of the week to dispose of lots he owns in the Capital City.

Standard Oil Man Here

Otton Overman, a representative of the Standard Oil Company, of Columbus, was a business visitor in Portsmouth yesterday. He made arrangements for the installation of a new sub-station at South Webster Thursday afternoon.

It is said a man can not lift himself by pulling on his own bootstraps, but we see something akin to him doing so in Italy going to war. She was ever trying to get in by holding herself back and now she is in up to her neck.

From this distance it looks like Prexy Thompson has been pretty busy through the winter and the spring putting the Ohio State University and himself into politics. That's bad for the university, but as time rolls on it is going to be much worse for one Thompson.

Notwithstanding both the urgent invitation and the threat of our good young governor those pesky Democrats continue to hold onto their jobs.

Vinton, the poorest county in the state, may yet get a bright spot on the map. Several big oil and gas wells have been driven therein lately.

True enough the verdict of the jury went against Barnes, but the case showed enough to the people for them to make the decision against Roosevelt.

Just like finding money—entering The Times corn growing contests. Everybody is sure to win and none can lose.

An obstreperous steel and three broken ribs show that there is something the terrible Teddy cannot drive hither and yon at will.

Even the worst must end sometime. The legislature makes final adjournment today.

Did anybody say the Turks had forgotten how to fight?

Doc Koko's COLUMN

(To the tune of "Billy Boy")

If you want to be in style,
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 And you think it is worth while,
 To protect the things you eat
 From their dirty little feet,
 On the butter and meal,
 "Swat the fly."

If you want to go to war,
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 And don't care to go so far,
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 You can have a job at home
 Swatting all the flies that come,
 And that will be "going some,"
 "Swat the fly."

If you want the city clean,
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 And you think it "dirty mean,"
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 That your neighbor's garbage can
 Is a filthy old tin pan,
 You can keep yours "spick and span,"
 "Swat the fly."

Is the slogan up to date?
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 Post it up in every state,
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 "Swat the fly."
 It is good, nevertheless,
 To bring our town business,
 And help "Share Portsmouth's Success,"
 "Swat the fly."

Will and Won't

A mule balked in front of our building the other morning. The negro in the wagon got out after futile attempts to get the mule started. Checkley was watching from the window.

"Are you going to let that mule do as he pleases?" he called jestingly. "Where's your will power?"
 "Mah will pow's all right, boss," retorted the negro. "You jes' want t' come out lyah an' measure 'ris 'heah mule's 'wont' power."—Ramrod.

His Translation

"I understand, Caddybump, that your wife is convalescing," said kindly Mrs. White.
 "No, mon, if yo' please, and t'anky for de 'terrogation," politely replied the colored man.

New York, May 29.—Money, as Renold Wolf would say, being coy and reluctant among the richer set this past year has driven thousands from handsome apartments in New York to hotel suites. When Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who lost his life on the Lusitania, built the Hotel Vanderbilt, he set the pace for a lot of folk who hesitated to live in hotels.

Vanderbilt made the entire top floor of his hotel his New York home and when the Vanderbilts do anything, here it is certain that a lot of others are going to follow suit. When a lot of incomes were curtailed, there was a grand rush from the big, luxurious apartments to the three or four room suites in hotels.

The custom has become very popular and while it has been a financial wallop for the apartment house owners it has been the means of keeping a lot of the first class hotels out of bankruptcy.

Mike Donlin, the eminent Thespian and base ball star, has been captured by the movies. Next month Mike will take up acting for the screen in a base ball story written by Bozeman Bulger, base ball editor of The World.

The film play will be the first production of a new film concern called The Real Photo-Play Company which has been incorporated and is going to put out some hummer films. Mike was being congratulated by his friends at the Friars on his new job the other day. He also told a good yarn. In the days of Ed. Deleahanty, that star hit a home run in Cincinnati that looked like it would never come down.

Jack Powell watched the sphere until it disappeared, and shook his head. "Gee!" he said, "I wish I had that home run out into singles. I'd lead the league in batting."

All He Wanted

"Money, my boy, won't buy everything."
 "I know, pa, but if you'd let lose a little of it you could get me a bicycle."

The enterprising manager of a moving picture theater in a small Pennsylvania town displayed the following sign in his house:

DO NOT SMOKE

So successful was this sign that before the end of the week he put up another:

DO NOT SPIT

WEEKLY SUMMARY OF THE MARKETS

New York, May 29.—Germany's delay in answering this government's note on the Lusitania incident and Italy's intervention in the war were the chief elements of interest in this week's dull and professional market. Trading proceeded cautiously with small daily totals, both as to stocks and bonds.

Operations were confined almost entirely to the professional element which alternately espoused the bull and bear sides. In the main, however, prices showed small declines. War specialists suffered general reversals, speculation in those issues having spent its force for a time.

Coppers and allied shares were active and strong but fell back after announcement was made of increased dividend disbursements by several of the leading producing and selling companies. The miscellaneous group, including Motors and Petroleum, moved according to the impulses of pool manipulators.

Crop news was partly disconcerting, advice from certain western and southwestern sections indicating marked deterioration in winter wheat. Railroad returns for April were mixed, with net decreases of some of the leading systems. Steel production continues at its recent high rate, with further domestic equipment orders but foreign demand remains moderate.

Foreign exchange became more normal, additional heavy imports from Canada and France conducing to that end. Domestic monetary conditions indicate greater ease, long time loans being negotiated at lower rates.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 29.—Trading in stocks was almost at a standstill today, the impending holiday, coupled with the probability of the publication of Germany's reply interim making for increased caution. Prices tended lower in the early dealings, war shares and other specialties showing declines of 1 to almost 3 points. United States steel fluctuated within a point and others moved more narrowly. Reading and Rock Island fell a point and Missouri Pacific declined on further deposits of notes under the extension plan.

Announcement that the German reply to Washington's note is probably to be issued tomorrow caused a further halt in the stock market today. The opening was irregular and void of feature except for a decline of one point in Rock Island and one half in Duane Superior which yesterday declared a large "extra" dividend. War shares like crucible steel and Westinghouse lost substantial fractions and the usual leaders including U. S. Steel, Union Pacific, Reading and Amalgamated Copper rose or fell within a narrow range.

menas. When you get all diked out every girl in Rarden will be after you.

Dear Dolly.—When walking with a gentleman it is correct for him to carry my coat if I'm not wearing it.

No. Carry your own coat. That is an old fashioned custom.

Dear Dolly.—I would like to know how to make a rose jar. What process do they go through and what spices are necessary?

A READER.
Rose petals are gathered day by day and put with alternate layers of salt in a closed glass jar until it is full or you have as many as you want. They are then shaken free from the salt and packed into a clean jar with spices—violet powder, heliotrope powder, mace, cinnamon, and cloves. Consult your taste and the quality of petals as to quantities. When the powders are fully incorporated with the petals, wet all with a few drops of roses, oil chiris, oil melisse, oil eucalyptus, and bergamot. Finally add enough alcohol to moisten all. Put away in tightly closed jar to "ripen" in the dark. It will hold perfume for 20 years and more. Do not open it for more than a minute at a time to perfume the room. Keep it closely shut up. Would suggest that readers clip this out and paste in cook book so I won't have to repeat it every week or two throughout the summer.

Dear Dolly.—For some time I have been seriously thinking of becoming a trained nurse. I want to do something, and I don't care for teaching school, neither do I think I would like office work. My folks do not like the idea of my becoming a nurse as they think it is too strenuous a life for a girl like me. What is your advice and what is required to make a successful nurse?

AMBITIOUS GIRL.
There is an opportunity for service in the profession of nursing that is not found in many other lines of activity for women. Of course the first requirement is good health. After that comes the ability to study and work, because the usual three years of training are rigorous. A girl must have sympathy, which does not mean, in any sense of the word, sentimentality, a sense of humor and tact. She must have an ability to face an issue squarely, and does not dare to shrink responsibility. A nurse must also be conscientious, as the life or death of a patient often rests in the hands of a nurse.

Dear Miss Wise.—Will you please tell me how I can bleach white a pink linen dress that has faded?

Boil the dress in strong soap.

suds first. If the color is not all removed add lye, which has first been dissolved in boiling water using not more than a level teaspoonful to one gallon of water, as more would be injurious to the material. Stir the solution thoroughly before putting the dress in the boiler. You can make your faded dress pink again by taking a piece of red crepe paper and coloring the rinsing water the desired tint.

Dear Miss Wise.—I would like to have your advice on some things. What colors will be worn most this summer? I am thinking of traveling some this summer is it safe for a girl to travel alone, as I will be in several cities? Can't cousins be lawfully married? If not, how come so many to be married? I have heard so much said on this subject. I know lots of good people who are cousins and married and are living happy. Is my writing good?

SCHOOL GIRL.
White, and all the light colors such as pink, light blue, green and yellow, also flowered and striped underlinen in various colors will be worn this summer. It's perfectly safe, although not very pleasant, for a sensible girl to travel alone. Don't make friends with any one on the train, or go with strangers anywhere. If you want information ask the conductor or a policeman. There is also a matron at all city stations to look after the wants of girls and women traveling alone. In the first place it is against the law for cousins to marry, and in the second place it's wrong. It is generally conceded that children born to cousins who marry each other will be crippled or deformed. If you can't find a husband other than your cousin better stay single. Your writing is very good.

Dear Dolly.—After washing a circular skirt how should it be hung so as not to stretch out of shape?
MABLE.
Hang it up by the belt for a while, then when it is partly dry reverse it stretching it to the line with three or four pins and allowing it to hang loosely between the pins.

Lonella.—I don't quite understand your first question. However, the person who inherits the property will have to pay the taxes on it or else it will be sold at sheriff's sale to some one who will pay them. The numbers are probably describing the different scenes. I cannot recall them just now but thought the explanation very plain as printed. Read it over again and maybe you'll understand it better. You were wise not to send the $15.00. If you had they probably would have written you it would have taken that much more for something else. It would be all right to ask.

FREE COURSE IN PHOTO-PLAY WRITING

GIVEN BY THE PORTSMOUTH TIMES

In connection with the Columbia, Lyric, Exhibit, Arcana and Temple Theatres

There is a great demand for scenarios. The growth of the moving picture industry has caused the demand to be greater than the supply, and nearly all the manufacturers pay good prices for acceptable stories. Scenario writing has, therefore, become quite a craze. This is the fifth of a series of ten free lessons to be published in the Times, one each Saturday. The lessons are written by Lillian M. Rubenstein, formerly scenario editor of the Lubin Motion Picture Company. Read this fifth lesson, the short story, and read the other lessons to follow, and when the course is completed you should be a thoroughly competent photo-play writer and able to sell your work to the big producers.

LESSON No. 5

(Copyrighted by Lillian M. Rubenstein)

In marketing scripts, one should always keep a card index and as each photoplay is sent out the name and address of the film company to whom it has been mailed should be written upon a card together with the date sent, and when the story is returned (as a great many stories have an unpleasant habit of doing) it should be carefully checked off as by this means an author is always informed as to where his script is and how long it has been under consideration; regarding the return of scripts bear in mind that the very first lesson to be learned in attempting the writing of photoplays is the lesson of "patience," as without it the best writer can never become really successful. What one company will not consider another may think is exactly what is needed, so one must never grow discouraged if like the proverbial cat the photoplays continue to "come back" simply think "Well, I'll try again," and start the story off the same day to another company unless in reading it over you discover some weak place in your plot which you feel can be improved upon and if so be sure to rewrite the story, for your very best isn't too good to give. I can not impress upon you any too strongly regarding the keeping of a careful record of your scripts, as unless you do there is always danger of submitting a story twice to the same firm as in my own experience as editor I have repeatedly received the same scripts over and over again, some as long as a year after the first time I had gotten them. Now it was either a case of the writer having neglected to keep a record or else he imagined that by sending a story back again there might be a chance that the last editor had either resigned or been sent away and that a new one would be more considerate. But this is a big mistake to make and after having once submitted a story to a certain company never re-submit it unless you have rewritten the entire story in a way to make it more available to the demands of the company to whom you have already sent it.

Never write upon both sides of the paper and do not use clips or pins which perforate the paper, as there are numbers of kinds of clips which hold the sheets together, but not permanently, as an editor does not like to read a story unless he can separate the sheets. Never roll your scripts, but use an envelope sufficiently large to hold your story when folded twice. Always write the title of your photoplay in the center and at the top of each page, also number each sheet and write your name and address in the right hand corner of each page. Many a writer sends a story to a company minus any name or address then after waiting a few months without any word from the company decides that the company have simply "stolen" his story, and do not intend to pay him; if aware of his negligence he would, I am sure, freely admit that it is an impossible feat for any editor to return a story when he has no name or address to return it to.

Stories often become separated but if the title, name and address of the author is upon each page what a simple matter it is to again combine the entire script.

Always start the synopsis right after the title leaving about four spaces between.

The scenario should always be started upon a fresh page, no matter how much space is left after the synopsis, cast of characters and scenes have been written.

To single or double space a script depends upon the writer as it hasn't much bearing upon the success of the play.

In writing a photo play always remember to use as few principle characters as possible, for the fewer the characters the better the play is understood by the audience.

In planning your cast you must take into consideration just what feats they are compelled to accomplish as extraordinary stunts had better be avoided as a producer might not wish to employ a certain person for a picture just because she is capable of walking a tight rope 500 feet in the air unless of course the story is so strong and original that it would pay to produce a picture of this description, but as a rule stories requiring acts of this kind are written by the staff around certain characters they happen to have convenient. In writing your story always go straight to the point, get down to business as it were; no matter if it be comedy, drama or tragedy, plunge right in, never use a lot of "padding" which has no bearing upon the story proper and only wastes a lot of film. Many a two-reel picture could easily be condensed into one reel and not lose a foot of interest. Never introduce into the earlier scenes of your photoplay any incident appearing to be of sufficient importance to effect the climax, unless it really does, as this only misleads the audience and complicates the story. Do not make your story too melodramatic or crowd your scenario with minor "thrills" which all help to detract from the one big "punch" of your climax.

become a life-long Arcana booster. Come where the crowds go.

All Stars Gain First Place.

The prettiest game of the season was played this morning at York park when the All Stars defeated Bigelow 6 to 4. The game was full of fast fielding features pulled off by both teams. The main one was Gower's peg from the left field bank catching Schuh at home. This rubbed him of what ordinarily would have been a home run. Virgin, Allen and Schuh also played fine ball. Jefferson pitched fine ball. Altman and Schuh led their teams in batting. The score:

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't stay gray! Here's a simple recipe that anybody can apply with a hair brush.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But beware! At home, in many and out of home, nowadays, by using any drug store, for a Sage and Sulphur preparation, you are liable to get a cheap, inferior, or even a harmful preparation. The hair will be injured, the scalp irritated, and the hair will fall out. The only safe and effective preparation is the one made by J. J. Brushhart, of the Cash Grocer, who has been using it for over 20 years. It is a simple mixture of Sage and Sulphur, and it is the only preparation that will darken the hair to any shade, from light gray to black. It is the only preparation that will keep the hair soft and abundant.

AVIATOR VON BUELOW IS SLAIN IN AIR DUEL

Paris, May 29.—Aviator Lieutenant Von Buelow, believed to be a relative of Prince Von Buelow, the former German Imperial Chancellor, was killed near Fismes, according to the Matin, in an air duel with a French aviator. The French pilot, describing the battle, said: "Wednesday morning, I saw an Albatross machine coming from the German lines headed for Paris, and I gave chase. He was 18,000 feet up. I went up to 9,000 feet, rapidly overhauling him, and the fight began. We were now less than 20 feet from the Albatross, but we were under such headway that we overtook him. I got a bullet in the shoulder, but it did not prevent me from continuing the chase. The Germans tried to escape by dropping, but I flew over them again. Apparently one of them was wounded. Suddenly my lieutenant got in a roller at point blank range and the Albatross tipped forward, shooting nose downward 6,000 feet to the earth. We followed them with our eyes. When the machine struck the earth it seemed to crumple into a ball and bounded along the hillside like a wounded rabbit running. We followed them down, descending in spirals. The pilot lay some yards away, where he had been thrown out while the observer was crushed under the engine. In one of his pockets we found a paper bearing the name, 'Lieutenant Von Buelow, Imperial Guards, Berlin.' We found in the wrecked aeroplane ten large bombs and 40 grenades. The pilot, given the choice of the Legion of Honor or the Military Medal, chose the latter."

GERMANY'S NOTE ON WAY

On the eye of Germany's reply to the American note on the sinking of the Lusitania there are indications that President Wilson will take the position that if Germany wishes to conduct a long diplomatic negotiation she first shall suspend submarine warfare on American ships or those carrying American lives. It was expected here that the German note might be delivered any hour today to Ambassador Gerard. The first official dispatches in from Europe gave no intimation of the situation and officials were of the opinion that should the document be delivered to the American embassy today it might not reach Washington much before Monday. They had no official intimation of its contents.

The passing of three weeks, however, since the Lusitania was torpedoed has not diminished the tension in high official quarters where the conviction prevails that President Wilson feels Germany should make an early disavowal of any intention that American lives should be lost.

The admission by the German admiralty that a German submarine torpedoed the American steamer Gulllight without warning is taken to confirm the conclusion of the Washington government reached before the Lusitania note was sent. Reports from Berlin that the German submarine commander had said close investigation of the neutral or belligerent character of the Gulllight was dangerous because she was in company of two British patrol boats was pointed out by officials as part of the contention that German submarine commanders without visit and search or at least warning may subject all American vessels to the same risk as belligerent craft.

ALL DANGER OF FLOOD IS PAST

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—Flood danger in the immediate vicinity of Kansas City is past, according to announcement made by the local United States weather observer today. While the Missouri and Kansas rivers rose slowly but steadily during the night the immediate danger of a disastrous overflow was considerably lessened.

Little rain fell in the watersheds of the Missouri and Kansas in the last 12 hours and early today the larger tributaries of the rivers were reported stationary or falling. Conditions in Kansas City, Missouri and Kansas City, Kansas today were almost normal. The most serious situation reported today was at Pottawatomie, Mo., where the flood waters of the Grand river have submerged the entire town and where a shortage of food is reported.

LOCUSTS ARE COMING, GOVERNMENT WARNS

Washington, May 29.—Warning of the expected reappearance of the 17-year locusts, technically known as Brood VI of the Cicada, in the east in May and June, was issued today by the department of agriculture. Little actual damage to nurseries and young orchards is expected.

While the expected brood is said not to be as important one, it covers much wider territory than any of the other 17-year broods. This particular insect is due to appear in scattered localities covering much of the northern and central states lying between the Hudson and the Mississippi, extending along the Appalachian elevated plateau into northern Georgia and South Carolina. It made its last appearance in this particular territory in 1898.

PLAN LINE BETWEEN U. S. AND S. AMERICA

Washington, May 29.—Plans for steamship lines between the United States and South America—the one element which all delegates to the Pan-American Financial Conference agree is essential to closer relations between the Americas, were presented today by the transportation committee. A permanent committee of representatives of the United States, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay, Ecuador, and Peru to work for the development of the plans was recommended. Two sub-committee reports differing only in proposals of procedure were submitted.

The reports were presented to the conference this morning by the entire transportation committee with the recommendation that "it is the unanimous conviction of the committee that such plans ought to be adopted as will most speedily establish direct effective and permanent transportation facilities between the United States and the Republics of South and Central America."

ACCEPTS REPORT ON SPRAGUE GERRYMANDER

Columbus, May 29.—Next to the last step before the final adjournment of the legislature, expected late today, was taken by the house this afternoon when it accepted the conference report on the Sprague congressional bill, by a vote of 65 to 38. McClade, Republican, of Huron voted with the Democrats against the bill. The fate of this measure thus was put up to the senate, whose Republican members together in order to insure enactment of the measure. Consideration by both houses of the conference committee report on the budget appropriation bill was the principal piece of business yet remaining before the legislators can quit their work and end the regular session of the 81st general assembly.

Pressure from Republican state leaders was exerted on Republican senators who had protested they would not vote for the redistributing bill as recommended by the conference committee, and senate leaders declared they expected its passage in the upper house. Only one member of the conference committee, Senator Cass, of Putnam, refused to sign the report. Those who gave it their approval were Senators Wise and Representatives Sprague, the bill author, Whittemore and Reighard. The agreement was considered a victory for the house as only two changes were made in the original measure.

as it was passed by the lower body. Vinton county was transferred from the eleventh to the tenth district, and Huron was taken from the seventeenth and placed in the 13th. The latter amendment caused Representative McClade of Huron against the bill. Five districts, the third, fourth, ninth, thirteenth and twenty-first are Democratic according to the new congressional map and fourteen are Republican, with two doubtful. Putnam county, transferred to the fourth district and the seventeenth is left as yet situated at present. These are the two districts under great dispute.

WILL HELP BELGIUM
Pittsburgh, Pa., May 29.—Mayors and Burgesses of 22 towns in western Pennsylvania at a dinner here last night pledged 127,750 sacks of flour to be sent at once to starving non-combatants in Belgium. This amount, which represents a cash contribution of $254,500 was pledged in less than 30 minutes.

OHIO MAN ROBBED
Cleveland, May 29.—John Mueller was bound to the bed in his home here early today by two robbers who ransacked the house and obtained $645 in cash. Mueller succeeded in freeing himself later and notified the police. He is in a serious condition.

At about midnight a German counter attack on our trenches at Balain St. Nazaire was easily repulsed.

"In the Argonne, in the vicinity of Poutaine, Madame, we yesterday took possession of a section of the enemy's trenches."

PORTSMOUTH IN READINESS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Business Will Be Suspended Until Tuesday In City

In common with the universal custom, Portsmouth will pay honor to the memory of those who fought from 1861 to 1865 to preserve the Republic. It is a day set aside for reverence for those who were willing to give up their lives that the Nation might endure.

Business will practically be suspended in the city throughout the day. The banks, offices and the majority of stores and manufacturing institutions will be closed all day, and the employees will be given a holiday.

The Memorial Day exercises at Greenlawn will be preceded by a parade of the patriotic societies and some of the local fraternal organizations, which is always a picturesque feature of the ceremonies. Music will be furnished in the First Christian church and Rigelow M. Edwards and the Sons of Veterans drum corps. Members of the G. A. R. and the Women's Relief Corps will ride in automobiles.

Upon the arrival of the parade at Greenlawn, flowers will be given upon the graves of the heroes who have crossed over into the Great Beyond. The annual Memorial address will be delivered by Hon. Henry T. Bannan, of this city, following the decoration of

FREE FLOWERS

Boss Foster, who lives about one mile up Carey's Run, states that any one wishing to gather wild flowers, such as daisies and ferns may get all they want on his place to use for decorating the old soldiers' graves Monday.

He has a large field of wild daisies in front of his house that he says cannot be beat. There are also plenty of fine ferns in the hills of his farm. Mr. Foster says that he will gladly give all the flowers that the people can pick if they will come out after them.

CANNON BALL MONUMENTS

Through the efforts of Captain Grand Milstead of Bailey Post G. A. R., Portsmouth will soon receive five attractive monuments made from cannon balls. Four of these will be in Tracy park, one with each gun, and one will be at the cemetery.

Captain Milstead took up the matter with Washington authorities and has received a letter from Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of ordnance, saying 100 cannon balls have been placed at the disposal of Captain Milstead at the government arsenal at Rock Island, Ill. They are twelve pound balls and General Crozier had an attaché of his office draw up the plans for making the monuments so they will show to the best advantage.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY

The school board at its regular meeting Friday night allowed the monthly schedule, which amounted to $988. Only three members were present, Pardon, Nourse and Hudson. The schools will be granted a holiday Monday, May 31, as Decoration Day will be observed on this day.

S. Of V. Auxiliary Has Fine Meeting

The S. of V. Auxiliary of Vinton Camp No. 26, Sons of Veterans, had a splendid meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Eichorn, Seventh and John streets. There was a good attendance, also several members of the Camp attended. Owing to the absence of two officers, members of degree team, all initiatory work is postponed until a future meeting.

On next Friday evening the Auxiliary will meet again in special session, the meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. James H. Delph at Gay and Seventh streets. At this meeting some new members may be initiated and plans will be made for a campaign to get in eligibles. The eligibility is limited descendants of soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the Union army or navy in 1861-65, sisters and wives of veterans and wives of sons of Veterans. Any lady interested should address the president, Mrs. Eichorn.

The ladies will assist in Memorial and Decoration Day observance as heretofore, and they always contribute much toward the honoring of the fallen soldiers.

DORA McCLOSKEY NOTIONS

POETRY VERSUS HUSBANDS, AS DISCUSSED BY DORA

"I WAS lookin' over the new magazine after ya left yesterday. Mame, an' it's queer how most of the poetry worth readin' is by women," said Dora McCloskey.

"Women got ter write out their hearts on paper, since they hev' ter live with the men," volunteered Mame.

"The men folk ain't poetical," sniffed Dora.

"That's why," nodded Mame. "If 'twere in ya, it must come out some way. An' if yer man won't listen, some poetical likely fer. An' ya got ter think that way as well as clearin' up yer feelin'."

"Dora is Not Temperamental."

"Ye're an all right," acknowledged Dora. "It reminds me of little Mollie Collins that she's here fer what she calls 'large sheets of paper' for which some refinement call ellages. Ter me they're better only that they bring me twenty cents more on 'em' hundred, but I ain't settin' up as temperamental."

Mame nodded, her nose up.

"She's all eyes, an' such soft purrin' ways, more like a kitten than a woman. From the first moment I set eyes on her, went on Dora. "I knowed I was ter hev' her 'fore I'd hev' her. It's queer how what we're up against over agin' what we like ter be like pictured in our faces. I didn't say much ter her. Jes' sort of waited. It all comes out in the wash, ya know. By an' by, she says 'I'm a poet'."

"Do yer know I write poetry?"

"I say: 'Lord, no. Who'd a thought 'This poem ter please her, an' she wrote 'ter th' ladies'—that's children,' as she called 'em."

"Her children," repeated Mame.

"Sure, child. That's the way she thought of 'em," explained Dora. "She had been married fer fifteen years, an' nary a chick, an' it's been a pent-up grief ter both her an' her man, 'specially her. She's ter sort of creature who jes' loves th' artistic side of life. She'll look fer a half hour at an old gravestone, an' an' fer th' turrets on a church steeple, she prefers 'em ter th' sermon. Now, if th' 'dinnerin' table had gave her kids that'd a been little devil. Fer she'd thought 'er poetry done jes' perfect, an' that's deans' ter any young un's morals. But she ain't seen it this way, an' 'er time she sees some woman with a couple o' golden haired youngsters natterin' her half ter death, she says, an' she's, an' goes home an' writes a new poem."

"There's somethin' awful romantic about it," admitted Mame. "But what would she have did if she'd been my ma?"

"With eight husky kids," laughed Dora. "She wouldn't a lasted, that's all. By gentle pumpin' I've found out Mollie Collins is th' kind who prefers boiled cabbage an' a side o' pork ter 'stud' an' 'kippin'. An' when his wife's readin' her verse ter him sort of low by th' evenin' twilight he'll say—"

"Mollie, ye're aquinted. Turn on th' light."

"This chills her through an' through, but rather than hev' a scene, fer he's awful quibbony, she reaches ter th' button, an' all th' soft shadows is gone. Then if she goes on with her poetry he'll say as if he thinkin' her infernal—"

"Save that there rubbish ter some other time. Mollie, I'd like ter finish the stock market report."

"Ye see, Mame, he gives her all th' fine feathers an' all th' good furniture, an' all th' out'n's she wants. But he don't give one drop o' companionship. An' that's why little Mollie Collins' heart is broke."

"All them gawkers an' 'trips ter satisfy me,'" bickered Mame.

"Ye ain't got a gentle soul," said Dora. "But here comes Mollie Collins. An', sure as you live, she's smilin'. What's up?"

Dora McCloskey walked to the front of her shop.

"Mornin', Mollie Collins. Some 'refined' paper?"

"No, Dora, not this time," actually grinning. "I want a ball, one with forgiveness on the side, if you have it, or roses'll do just as well. And a Noah's ark, one with lavender animals—their'd be pretty. And a box of blocks, old rose, with black letters. And—"

"Hold on," interrupted Dora. "I've got balls, an' Noah's ark, an' blocks, but not in th' deacons' yer after. Is ya marlin' a playhouse?"

"I've taken a boy to raise," informed Mrs. Collins. "My cousin died and left him to me. He's three years old, and I'm trying to make him artistic, an' thought I'd have artistic playthings an' suggestive of his future."

Artistic Toys.

"Well, I never! Here's the lavender ball, and a brown Noah's ark, an' a some yellow an' pink blocks—how's them?" inquired Dora, exhibiting the toys.

"They'll have to do," sighed Mrs. Collins. "You see, Dora, I want him—the boy, when he's grown to be professional—"

"An—actor, or (embarrassed) a—poet."

Local Pitcher Fans 15 Batters, Charleston Beaten

Charleston, May 29.—Those hard hitting Cobblers yesterday took the second game of the series with the Senators by the one-sided score of 11 to 1.

Manager Berry again tried two new players in his lineup, but they could not get better than the ones he had in yesterday's game. Tally at short and Ford in left were the additions. The shortstop played a miserably poor game in the field. Negotiations are said to be under way to bring back Harry Thibert who played that position last season.

Coffindaffer who started in to try his hand against the pesky Cobblers got a bad start in the first inning, and before it was over they only had three runs. That is all they had in the first and if they had never started another run toward the plate they had another game. But they didn't stop. The batters had no respect for the worn three hundred fans who sat, cold-blooded in the stands with their mouths open, but no pulse beating, waiting for the next play.

Now the locals got the run in the seventh inning, would probably be more interesting to the readers than the story of how the visitors and their coach, handled the game. A run against the pitcher, Coffindaffer, and with the weak hitting of the locals, is little short of a miracle but it is true. It happened because Mr. Nutter had slammed out the only two hits the locals had made against the opposing moundman up to this time, and he again appeared in this inning with Curtis as catcher. The entire story of the last part of the seventh inning is brief, but very exciting. Ahner, first up, hit a pop fly in left field. Curtis walked and went to second on a passed ball. Coffindaffer was passed and Nutter stroked toward the plate. He stood up, hit, and slid for the out. The pitcher, which was Coffindaffer, when he heard nothing, he performed a few of his favorite tricks, but still there was silence. During this time, Mr. Ferguson had planned a few all around his head and one had been edited a strike. Then the crash came. Nutter delivered his third and longest hit, a double into left field. Curtis stroked in unconcerned, and Coffindaffer stood on third while Boss Giddy watched his bat at three fast ones. The score:

Y. W. C. A. DOES SPLENDID WORK IN PORTSMOUTH

For several years there has been a great agitation growing in this country. The keyword of this agitation may be called "efficiency"—getting things done faster and cheaper and better, all at the same time. As a nation we may modestly claim to have attained to a certain degree of efficiency, since we have smooth running machinery, record breaking crops, transportation facilities that are gigantic, and large institutions that are doing wonderful things for humanity. But there is an enormous task yet to be mastered here in our country, a task that has barely been begun yet—the developing of the mental and moral capacity of the American people. There is prevalent today a power that is calling every man, woman and child to be and to do the very best that lies within his power to be and to do, and this is efficiency of the highest type. It is the person of trained intelligence, of informed mind who is master of himself and of his work. Whatever it may be—whether it be the proprietor of the store or the clerk behind the counter, the manufacturer or the workman at the machine, the teacher in the school room or the pupil under his direction.

Millions of girls will leave school this year, at or before the end of the sixth grade with education "finished." Many young women are expecting, within a short time, to start housekeeping on a salary that must meet the needs of two where formerly it served the wants of one—young women who acknowledge that they are entirely strange to the mysteries of housework. Many young women without any preparation for making their way alone, are suddenly thrown upon their own resources. These are a few of the types of the women, either illiterate partly educated, educated "in spots," or highly educated, who knock at the friendly door of the Young Women's Christian association over whose portals is written: "A chance for young women to learn what they need to know next."

One of the most active lines of service in the city of Portsmouth today is the Young Women's Christian association, an organization started here just three years ago. Today it stands as one of the greatest forces for good in our city, reaching out to hundreds of girls in all walks of life. On October 1, 1912, the Young Women's Christian association was organized here in Portsmouth seventeen thousand dollars having been contributed for its support for three years, by the people of Portsmouth, who are always ready to support, loyally, a movement for the uplift of humanity.

On the 16th of January, 1913 the Young Women's Christian association threw open its doors for service and business with a membership of 1900 to support it in its work. Since its opening, the Young Women's Christian association has been a home to 152 girls and 174 transient visitors. It has employed the service of three secretaries and one assistant secretary to carry on the work the association has found to do, besides the services of a housemaid, waitresses, a cook and a janitor, who have been employed in the boarding house.

But the Young Women's Christian association stands for more than a boarding house. That is just one phase of its large work. In its religious department through the vesper services and Bible classes 1,324 girls have been reached with religious instruction. In its extension work the association has visited several of the factories of the city at noon, reaching over 10,000 girls there, bringing to them music, readings and instructive talks on vital subjects. Last summer a summer camp beautifully situated on the Kentucky shore was rented by the Young Women's Christian association and opened to all its members for three weeks, during which time over sixty girls availed themselves of the pleasures and comforts of the camp. During the entire summer picnics were held at Millbrook park for the business girls, these picnics having been enjoyed by nearly 500 girls, while the winter picnic suppers held in the gymnasium hall were equally as popular. The education department of the association has reached nearly 500 girls with its classes of gymnasium work, sewing, cooking, dressmaking, music, millinery, story telling, tailoring and reading.

The service the Young Women's Christian association is rendering to our city can never be figured in dollars and cents, but some day it will assert itself in the womanhood of our city. Every day brings some good fruit from the seed sown in October of 1912, when Portsmouth sent the call to the National Young Women's Christian association, with headquarters in New York, to "come over and help us" build up an institution in our city that will educate, train, serve and protect the young womanhood of our city.

Word comes from Washington that Stephen H. Shafer, son of Benjamin F. Shafer, 43 Gallia street, this city, has been appointed a corporal in the United States Marines. Young Shafer has been a marine scarcely more than a year and the promotion comes as a pleasant surprise to his legion of friends in Portsmouth.

Corporal Shafer saw service in Mexico with the 11th company, Third Regiment of Marines when that gallant little band made history at Vera Cruz.

Only 5% PLUS for the Best "Non-Skid"

PRACTICALLY all Non-Skid Tires that make serious claims to non-skid efficiency cost you 10% to 30% more than Plain Tread Tires of same brand and material.

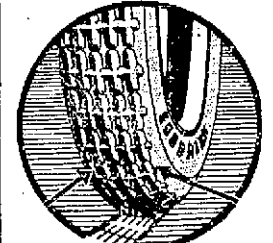

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires cost you only 5% more than our plain tread tires.

Here's how and why!

FORTY-FIVE years of Rubber working (in what is now the World's largest Rubber Factory) has taught us a few Kinks and Short-cuts that are not common to the Trade.

One of these now comes to the help of your Pocket-book.

Through the simple process of Thinking Hard (and being Candid with ourselves) we have found a Short-cut to make the best Safety Tread ever put on a Tire cost us only about 5% more than it costs to make the Plain-Tread of similar quality.

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires cost you only 5% more than our own or any other plain tread tire.

Note the following table of comparative prices on non-skid tires. Columns headed "A", "B", "C", "D" represent four highly advertised tires:

Size	Goodrich Safety Tread	"A"	"B"	"C"	"D"
30 x 3 1/2	19.45	20.50	21.00	21.50	22.00
32 x 3 1/2	22.50	23.50	24.00	24.50	25.00
34 x 3 1/2	25.50	26.50	27.00	27.50	28.00
36 x 3 1/2	28.50	29.50	30.00	30.50	31.00
38 x 3 1/2	31.50	32.50	33.00	33.50	34.00

By testing out these Goodrich Safety-Tread Tires on a large number of Taxicabs (where they could be competitively observed and carefully checked up at the end of each day's use) and by comparing their actual performance with that of our own, and other Plain-Treads, of much higher price, we have had this fact forced upon us——That there is SURPRISINGLY more Mileage in Goodrich Safety Tread Tires, than in our own, or any other, make of Plain-Tread Tires.

SO MUCH more Mileage, for only 5% more Cost looked so good to us that we decided to give Car Owners the benefit.

Here's what we now offer just

The best Non-Skid Safety Tread ever put on the market, and it costs you only 5% more than our best plain tread tire.

D. E. Ross May Be Next Superintendent Of N. B. Schools

Preliminary steps to go from under the supervision of the county superintendent were taken Friday night by New Boston school board at their regular monthly meeting.

Miscellaneous bills amounting to $253.94 were allowed. Contractor C. E. Nourse who has the contract for building an addition to Stanton avenue school was allowed his third estimate amounting to $183.3. The teachers and janitor's pay roll schedule amounting to $1025 was allowed.

County Superintendent E. O. McGowan who was present, took the floor for an hour's advisory talk. Superintendent S. D. Eckhart is to leave the schools August 31, when his three year term expires. He will take his office as county auditor October 15. Mr. McGowan referred the board to section 4681 of the new state law which says a village having a population of over 3000 may hire a superintendent and not come under the county superintendent. Member J. C. Harris was the only member to speak in favor of continuing under county supervision. His chief reason was that the county superintendent would be a great help to the new superintendent. Clerk Ray Coburn and Members Frank Taylor, John Bell, John Noel and Tom York spoke against the plan, saying that D. E. Ross who has been teacher in the schools for several years is ready to take up the work of Superintendent Eckhart and that his stay in the schools would mean that they would be conducted along the same high plane. The New Boston schools have for sometime been known as the best of any village of its size in the state.

D. E. Ross is the board's choice for superintendent to take Eckhart's place. It is said. The first steps to do away with the county supervision was taken when Tom York made a motion that two or more men be employed to take the census of the town. They will be named at the next meeting.

Superintendent Eckhart presented to the board for approval his selection of the five following students who are qualified for graduation: Golda O'Neal, Raymond Hasep, Eliza Porter, Ernest Taylor and Lonnie Chinn. The diplomas were signed by President Taylor and Clerk Coburn. Eckhart announced to the board that June 1 has been the date set for the commencement on account of it being the only date Spunker O. T. Carson could be present. The members were extended an invitation to be present at the commencement.

Miss Lucy McCormick who has been teaching in Kentucky, announced to the board that she was an applicant for the position of teacher in the village schools. She was told to send in her application.

Ralph Tyson of Architect W. A. Devoss' office, reported that the plans and specifications for the sanitary toilet systems to be installed in the two schools were before the state board for approval. He read his specifications and they were approved.

Marshal Will L. Davis was hired as transient officer for the remainder of the school term. School closes on Friday, June 11. The board adjourned to meet Friday, June 11, when the teachers will be given their final pay.

RUSSELL McCURDY HONORED

Delaware, Ohio, May 29.—At a meeting of Delta Sigma Rho at Ohio Wesleyan University Friday morning, Russell McCurdy, of Portsmouth, was elected president of the chapter. Mr. McCurdy, of Portsmouth, was elected president of the chapter. Mr. McCurdy, of Portsmouth, was elected president of the chapter.

This chapter is one of the largest in the country, and with these officers in charge, promises a very favorable year. Plans are now being made for a formal banquet to be held Commencement week, when all the active members and many alumni are expected to be present.

Mr. McCurdy has been one of the most prominent debaters of the present year, and his newly elected position as president of Delta Sigma Rho, the honorary debate fraternity, evidences the high regard for excellence in debate in which he is held by his fellow students. Ohio Wesleyan has one of the biggest departments of oratory and debate of any school in the Middle West, and Mr. McCurdy's new position will bring him into contact with many of the inter-collegiate debaters throughout the state.

Elks Still "Dicker" For New Quarters

The committee appointed recently by the Portsmouth Lodge of Elks to investigate the advisability of leasing the second floor of the May House building for lodge quarters requested an extension of two months time in which to make its report at Friday night's meeting of the order, which was a postponed meeting from Wednesday evening.

The extension was granted them, and a detailed report, containing estimates of costs, will be submitted at the next meeting on the second Wednesday evening in June. At this meeting, a light buffet lunch will be served.

Richard M. Bates, the architect, was added to the committee, which was originally composed of Paul Esselborn, Alan N. Jordan and Valdes Harold.

Masons Get Invitations

A number of local Masons have received invitations to attend the one hundredth anniversary celebration of Clermont Lodge, No. 29, F. and A. M., at Williamsburg, Tuesday, June 1st. Arrangements have been made for a picnic to be held on the town square and a number of high officials of the lodge are expected to be present. John Thomas and H. K. McElroy, N. & W. clerks, have made arrangements to attend.

Lost Badge

Capt. George S. Carroll of Vienna Camp Sons of Veterans, had the bad luck to lose his post commander's badge somewhere along the line of march in the big parade last Friday evening.

The badge, a small iron cross, with the letters S. V. in center, surmounted by an eagle and studded with gun cartridges and attached to colored ribbon, is of small intrinsic value but is highly prized by Mr. Carroll, as it is presented to him at the close of his administration as commander of Vienna Camp, and also as it is a symbol of his rank and as a life member of division.

The finder will confer a real kindness by notifying Mr. Carroll or sending the badge to him.

Commencing June 1st, 1915, and continuing until further notice, the undersigned Banks will close on Tuesday nights at 8:00 instead of 9:00 o'clock, as in the past.

Believing that our customers can make it as convenient to transact their business before 8:00 o'clock, as later, we request their co-operation to this effect.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast
if your back hurts or bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver troubles, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of swelling, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and cleanse the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids having so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent kidney-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Prices On Drugs Is Soaring; War Said To Be Responsible

Druggists all over the country are receiving notices of the increase in drugs and dyes. The May 26th issue of the Weekly Drug Markets "has reached local druggists and the booklet contains several articles on the advance of drug prices.

Some of the most common drugs that prices have advanced on are: antipyrine, bismuth preparations, chloral hydrate, citric acid, cod liver oil, cream of tartar, doggrass, epsom salts, glycerine, mercurial, naphthalene, potash permanganate, quinine, rochelle salt, salol, santonin, seidlitz mixture, squills, tartaric acid, thymol. The following have declined in price: bayberry wax, lycopodium, matico leaves, nitrate of silver, seeds, canary, colery, quince and sunflower, scoria leaves, valerian root and wormwood oil.

The following are excerpts from the drug journal:

"Citric acid and other products of Italian origin are affected by that country's declaration of war. In the drug markets, Italy's determination to participate in the European conflict has already stimulated considerable interest in various products of that country, supplies of which may be seriously curtailed if it becomes necessary for the Italian government to requisition a large number of steamships engaged in trans-Atlantic commerce, for use as transports.

"Citric acid, a product in which there is at most times a tendency to speculation, has been the first to reflect the uneasiness occasioned by the possibility of a shortage.

"A more conservative selling policy has also been adopted by the manufacturers of cream of tartar and tartaric acid who depend chiefly upon argols produced in Italy for their raw material. Many crude botanical drugs which heretofore have been supplied by Italy such as sumac, orris root and squills are also affected. The price of squills has already been advanced quite sharply on the report that an embargo has been placed on shipments. The blocking of Trieste and other Mediterranean ports is expected to have an effect on the markets for cuttlefish bone, cod-cynth, tragacanth, sage and other products which are exported in a large way from Austria and adjoining provinces.

"Italy's action put an end to all possibility of shipments of German products by way of that country and as a result the general tendency to firmness in prices for coal tar products, glycerine, potash and numerous pharmaceutical preparations has been accentuated. It is becoming more evident every day that unless some agreement can be made with the belligerent nations that will permit shipments to this country the domestic market will be practically barren of many kinds of drugs and chemicals.

"Tartaric products and allied drugs advanced last Monday concurrently with Italy's actual entrance into the war.

"Prices in London are advancing rapidly. Sulphur is higher, owing to prohibition of shipments by Italy; caustic potash is dearer; opium is firmer, clove oil is higher; camphor is advancing, and antimony has experienced a further advance.

The booklet contains a splendid article of interest to druggists under the head of "Russia Making Own Medicines." The production of pharmaceutical supplies in the Czar's country has progressed rapidly during war. Salicylate of soda, caffeine, aspirin and other medicaments are being manufactured in the University laboratory of Kiev. Aspirin, pyramidon, salol and other tablets along with chloroform, nitrophenol, aspirin, phenacetin, salicylic acid, salvarsan, colloidal silver, at eugenol, and iodine are also being manufactured. Formalin, wood spirits, acetone, acetic powder are among the medicines manufactured. Corrosive sublimate is now being produced near Moscow from mercury. The mercury mines had been idle for a long time.

Village "Skyscraper" To Be Erected Soon

Active work on Wheeler's first "skyscraper" will begin within another week. The contract for the work was let Friday to E. V. Dotsan and J. C. Harris. Dotsan is from Seicoville and will do all the carpenter work. J. C. Harris is from New Boston and will do the brick and stone work. The building is to be a three story brick structure with an ornamental front, will be 100 feet long and 28 feet 3 inches wide. Completed the building will cost $8000. Will McCurdy will occupy the basement, first floor and part of the third with his general store business. Frank McCurdy will have his undertaking establishment on the second floor while the third floor will be used only for lodge purposes. The new structure will go up on a lot on Main street adjoining the Frank McCurdy home.

CLAIMS PORTSMOUTH HIS HOME.

The police received a telegram Friday from Thomas Evans, city warden of Atlanta, Ga., stating that a man named Stokes was ill in a hospital there, that he claimed Portsmouth as his home and said a Mr. Brunton was his brother-in-law.

Chief McCarty called up Homer Brunton, of the firm of Berry & Brunton, bicycle dealers, of Gallia street, but he said he had no relative of that name and knew of no other persons here by the name of Brunton.

Discuss Proposed "Car Stop" Change

Replying to the mayor's letter of May 25th relative to stopping street cars on the near-side of the street crossings, H. H. Higgins, secretary and treasurer of the company, writes that he is at loss to know how the stopping of cars on the near-side of the street would have had any bearing on the unfortunate accident on Ninth street this week.

Mr. Higgins also stated that on March 1, 1914, an ordinance was presented in council providing for the adoption of the plan of stopping cars on the near-side of the street, and that it was referred to the council as a committee of the whole. At a subsequent meeting on March 10th, the ordinance was withdrawn.

In conclusion Mr. Higgins writes that the directors of the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light Company had not changed their opinion regarding the proposition from that expressed on March 10th, 1914.

The reply was followed by another letter from the mayor, who insists that the matter is of extreme importance for council to act. In such an event, he expresses the hope that the company will acquiesce in its consent to change the present plan.

Other Cities Inspected

Other cities in Ohio are being inspected by the deputies from the state fire marshal's office, as witness this article in the insurance column of Friday's Cincinnati Enquirer:

"As the result of clean-up campaigns throughout the state the Ohio Fire Marshal Department has issued orders to tear down, repair buildings or correct other hazards in the following numbers during May: Cincinnati, 232; Portsmouth, 255; Youngstown, 138; Findlay, 140; Delaware, 97; Columbus, 93; Hillsboro, 86; Delaware, 74. Defiance, Delaware and Portsmouth are to be re-inspected."

GLENNY WHITNEY IS AN AUTO CRASH VICTIM

An automobile driven by John M. Wendelken of 1614 Eleventh street and a bicycle ridden by Glenn Whitney of 1819 Seventeenth street, collided at the intersection of Gallia and Chillicothe streets, Saturday morning and Mr. Whitney was painfully bruised about the legs. Fortunately his body cleared the machine, but his wheel did not and it is a total wreck.

Mr. Whitney was riding west on Gallia street and Mr. Wendelken was driving his machine south on Chillicothe street when they came together with considerable force. Mr. Whitney thought he had time to cross in front of the machine but he didn't and the next minute he was sent scurrying to the street when the machine struck his bicycle. It was first thought Mr. Whitney had been badly hurt, but he was able to get up and go to his work. He says he was confused somewhat by a car approaching him and he thought Mr. Wendelken would turn out for him.

Pearl Pennywitt's new marble plant at Seventeenth and Olive streets has become the subject of complaints from persons of that neighborhood. The noise caused by the engine and the pneumatic air equipment are said to be disturbing them. The city officials suggested that she simply use the place for a display room and that she have her stone cutting done elsewhere and he intimated that he might do this.

The Graduation Gift

There is no gift that gives the pleasure that a Diamond Ring does. It becomes a priceless possession, prized both for its beauty and value, and also because of the associations with Graduation Time.

It starts the graduate out with something of real value, that never depreciates in price, never wears out, never can be anything but fine and beautiful. Which is not a bad ideal and example to young people.

Scene of Next Great International Five Hundred-Mile Race in Which Veteran Stars of New and Old World Will Compete

INDIANAPOLIS MOTOR SPEEDWAY.

The arena on which the great Indianapolis 500-mile race is held presents almost as many features of interest to the spectator as the contest itself. Representing five years of labor and a million dollars in cash, it is to the world today what was the Circus Maximus to Rome and the Olympic Stadium to Greece.

Some idea as to its vastness may be gained from the fact that it covers 328 acres of ground, and has on it no less than 43 buildings, including grand stands, garages, pavilions, lodge house, office buildings, and aviation sheds. The grand stands themselves measure a full mile in length, and seat 75,000 people. The course's total capacity, counting parking space for ten thousand machines, and all the available standing room, is about 250,000 spectators. Approximately 100,000 annually attend.

To witness an Indianapolis 500-mile race is one of the unforgettable experiences of human life. The dizzy whirl of cars around the track, the roar of motors, the thousands of spectators packed into the grand stands and around the track, the glittering myriads of motor cars, and last but not least, the magnitude of the course itself—all combine to make a spectacle unrivaled in the history of the globe. It must be seen to be appreciated. Long after the monuments of our present day civilization have vanished, the Indianapolis motor speedway will live on in the minds of man. The most characteristic institution of the twentieth century, it will be preserved in history for all time.

This race was to have been held today (Saturday) but owing to weather conditions was postponed until Monday.

Catsy To Feed One Armed Man

To feed an armless and one legged tramp was the unique sentence imposed upon Al "Catsy" Sly in police court Saturday morning.

Sly has been before the court so often the past few weeks, almost constantly working on the street gang, that because of the rain which precluded outdoor work the court was at first puzzled how to punish him. His eyes then fell upon J. W. Pittman, the badly maimed hobo, who sat next to "Catsy." Both had been arrested for drunkenness Friday night. The court thereupon ordered "Catsy" to turn Good Samaritan and put in the day feeding Pittman and otherwise looking after his personal wants.

Turnkey Joe Stokley had previously complained that the cripple was double trouble because of his own utter helplessness and that he was averse to boarders of that kind. "Catsy" accepted the sentence with his usual good grace.

Bill Bishop and Frank Clark, plain drunks, drew the minimum of $5 each.

Lauffer Receiver

Application for the appointment of a receiver for the W. J. Stephenson of Adams county will arrive Tuesday morning to preside over an extended session of Scioto county common pleas court during the absence of Judge Thomas, who leaves early next week on a month's trip to the San Francisco and San Diego Expositions. Over one hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed.

Mr. Vaughters recently took the civil service examination, and his grade entitled him to an early appointment.

WILL REMOVE BODIES FROM SUBMARINE F-4

Honolulu, May 29—Owing to the discovery of a large hole in the side of the submarine F-4, submerged since March 25 on the floor of the ocean outside the harbor here, an attempt was to be made today to remove from the vessel the bodies of its crew of 21 men to prevent possible mutilation by fish. The hull is now within 21 feet of the surface.

Towing and lifting operations were halted, and divers prepared to enter the hull, and a barge was made ready to receive the bodies. The hole in the submarine, according to divers who made an inspection late yesterday, is at the point of juncture of the vessel's forward and middle compartments. They removed a quantity of bedding from the hole and brought it to the surface. Naval officers said the hole probably was caused by constant pounding of the hull on the ocean bed in the heavy seas of the last few days.

Another theory advanced is that the hole was caused by an explosion that wrecked the submarine and brought quick death to its crew.

FUN RAYS

GOLF

THE golf "man" like into the links to await the little pill. A happy lot they are, methinks, when golf is on the bill. Oh, countless are the merry souls who play the ancient game. They wear out tons of leather soles and make their pedicels lame. The notion just can't hit the ball—no makes an awful fow. He can't control himself at all and simply tries to "cuss." The gutta percha pellet whizzes, mostly over the green. Oh, how I hate to tell it but it dents somebody's beam. They place the sphere upon the tee and swing with all their might. They wait at it right viciously and soon it's out of sight. They drive the little ball a sweet and Marvellous along—no matter if the weather's hot—their hearts are filled with song. The brasses and the jiggers and the bafly and the creak most surely cut a figure in a game when Greek meets Greek. The links are filled with veterans and nervous gulches. The caddy takes his forty winks and jumps at about of "Pace!" Now Outinet wears the badge of fame by trailing over the links and Smith and "Travers" did the same—and many more, methinks. All honor to the bravest Scot who ushered in the game. He sure does deserve a lot—we ought to cheer his name. The season now is in full blast—twill last until the fall. The "fuss" swing golf sticks fast and caddies chase the ball.

A Fashion Hint.

The woman who is looking for a good pattern with the aid of which she can make her new summer frock will do well to consider the model pictured. The blouse shows the new vest effect at the front with set-in short, or full length, sleeves. The two gored skirt is attached to a three piece yoke that is finished with either a high or regulation waist line. This model is suitable for developing silk, woollen or cashmere goods and will be smart if a touch of bright color is introduced by way of the collar and cuffs. The buttons are also made a trimming feature.

Tearing the newspaper apart he found about a dozen dynamite caps and as many fuses. The gun is a 38-Wever-Johnson hammerless make and was fully loaded. The newspaper contained an account of the Johnson-Willard prize-fight and the gun and fuses have

HOME OF CHARACTER No. 168

An Artistic Design—By John Henry Newson.

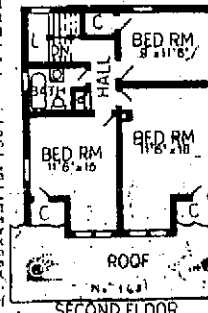

The artistic effect of this design is enhanced by the lattice work carried over the row of small windows in the living room, and this effect would be further enhanced if vines were growing over this lattice. The exterior is carried out in a very simple way with the main roof extending over the porch and supported by heavy columns.

Considerable space is gained on the first floor by placing the stairway at the rear of the kitchen, thereby giving one entire side of the house to the living room. The combination stairs take up very little space and the outside entry is combined with the grade entry to the basement, which effects a further saving in space. The second floor contains two unusually large bedrooms for a home of this size, a smaller bedroom, and in addition a good size bathroom, and large closets for each bedroom. The first floor is finished in oak and the second floor is yellow pine, all stained and varnished. The floors are oak throughout. Basement under entire house. This attic is unfinished and is reached through scullery in ceiling of second floor hall. We have had most favorable criticism of this design wherever built.

This house has been built for $2800 and should be applicable under ordinary conditions for the same amount. Built under expensive conditions the cost might run to $3000. Size 24x35 feet. Price of plans $20. Price of specification $5.

If you think of building, don't hesitate to consult John Henry Newson free.

By special arrangement Mr. Newson is ready to answer any inquiry from any reader of The Times concerning any design appearing on this page. Simply give the number of the design in writing and address your letter to "Times of Character Department," The Times, and Mr. Newson will personally answer your inquiry.

BICYCLE RACES TO BE RUN MONDAY AFTERNOON

For the first time in recent years Portsmouth, on Decoration Day, will witness two high-class bicycle races, which will be run around the Boulevard.

The first race will be for boys under 16 and it will be a five-mile event or once around the Boulevard. The second race will be open to all and it will be a ten mile affair, the entrants to encircle the Boulevard twice. Handsome prizes now on display in R. S. Prichard's display windows will go to the winners.

The first race will start promptly at two o'clock and the second as soon as the first one has been run. Francis Knapp, of 1513 Twelfth street, and Stanley Prichard have been the prime movers in the races, and they have received encouragement and assistance from all local bicycle dealers.

It will be well to remember that both races are to start at the post-office and stop at the same place, the course to be north on Chilli-cothe street to the Boulevard, east on the Boulevard to Kinney's Lane, west on Kinney's Lane to Offener, south on Offener to Gallia, and west on Gallia to the post-office. Watchmen will be placed along the course to protect the riders from street cars, vehicles and automobiles.

Art Unadorned.

I like my art unadorned; thought and skill and the other strange quality that is added thereto to make things beautiful and nothing more. A farthing's worth of paint and paper, and behold! a thing of beauty!—as they do in Japan. And if it should fall into the fire—well, it has gone like yesterday's sunset, and tomorrow there will be another.—H. G. Wells.

The Movies

William Elliott in Film Version of "When We Were Twenty-One" Brings New Personality to the Screen

William Elliott, the latest stage star to be converted to the screen, through the Famous Players Film company's presentation of "When We Were Twenty-One," the great dramatic success by H. V. Esmond, attraction at the Lyric Tuesday on the Paramount program, brings a new personality to the film. The play is a clever, original subject, modern in treatment, with realism and sentiment mixed by a master hand.

Its story is a simple one. It turns on the determination of an old bachelor to save the son of his dead friend from the follies of youth—the youth of today. He takes the boy's sins on his own shoulders, and the sacrifice which he successfully makes results eventually in his own happiness. Over every episode of the drama there is an atmosphere of life and naturalness that possibly does more than any other agency to make it a notable contrast to the customary photoplay of the present day. The general presentation of the plot and its divergent appeals is excellent.

As a stage production the subject achieved a distinct triumph. It is a manifest fact that the Famous Players' film adaptation of this noted play will parallel or surpass the success of the original.

He entertained his local trade today with narratives of the Balkan war.

THIS MAN WITH THE CROUCH

GETTING USED TO FOLKS

IN spite of clouds and rain, the Man-with-the-Crouch went by with a smile on his face. "What makes you so cheerful?" asked Blinks. "Did you leave your old cotton umbrella in somebody's hall rack and come away with a five dollar one—by mistake?" "Nothing so sordid as that," answered the Man-with-the-Crouch. "I'm simply happy because I've discovered that nothing is so funny as folks."

"There's a whole lot in getting 'used to folks.' There's no end of fun and entertainment in life when you meet your fellow men in a warm, human way."

"Of course, I see people's little vanities and prejudices, but that's no reason why I should freeze my face and pass 'em by like an iceberg."

"In fact, it's their little vanities and prejudices that tell me they are human and keep me aroused."

"That's why a letter I got from West Point this morning made me laugh. At the end of the letter my correspondent signed himself 'First Class Musician, U. S. A.' All the great musicians would like to sign themselves like that, but look the mean to be snubbed. They just ain't no use to be snubbed."

GERMANY WARNS U. S. SHIPPERS

WILSON TO WARN MEXICAN LEADERS

Washington, May 29.—Attention was again focused today upon Mexico as the result of President Wilson's determination to warn the Mexican leaders that conditions in the southern republic must improve. The president's forthcoming pronouncement was awaited with the keenest interest. Its contents are known only to officials who decline to reveal what it contains, except to say that recognition of any faction is not contemplated. Possibility of intervention was heard again as the result of the new turn in Mexican affairs. The president's decision became known in an appeal issued as head of the Red Cross urging contributions to relieve destitute people of Mexico. After conferring with Duval West, just back from Mexico, President Wilson declared last Tuesday that there would be no change in his Mexican policy. But more recent events brought about his determination to act. These include the seizure by Carranza

THREE MORE VESSELS SUNK BY SUBMARINES

England Is Again Loser In Undersea War With Germans

Liverpool, May 29.—The Elder Dempster Line steamer, Ethiopia, has been torpedoed and sunk. The chief officer and 18 men of the Ethiopia have been picked up. The rest of the crew is supposed to be in boats. London, May 29.—The British steamer, Stannymoor, of Newcastle has been sunk by a German submarine and the captain and five of the crew landed. The Stannymoor was torpedoed by 13 shells fired from the guns of the submarine and then finally was torpedoed. Copenhagen, May 29.—The Swedish sailing ship, M. Roosval, was torpedoed on Wednesday by a German submarine in the Skagerrak and the crew was brought to port today.

ADVISES CAUTION IN ENTERING WAR ZONE

Washington, May 29.—An urgent warning to American shipping against traversing the naval war zone incautiously and to have all neutral markings displayed as conspicuously as possible, including illumination at night, was communicated today by the German government through the American embassy at Berlin. The German warning was announced in the following statement made public by the state department: "The German government has been informed by the German foreign office that in view of the fact that during the past few weeks it has repeatedly occurred that neutral ships have been sunk in the waters designated as an area of maritime war by the German admiralty, on February 4, 1915, and especially in one case where it was established that the sinking was traceable to an attack by a German submarine, while the ship was in the zone of maritime war, it has been deemed advisable to issue this warning. It is recommended that American ships, when in the zone of maritime war, should display all neutral markings as conspicuously as possible, and especially at night, should be illuminated."

AVIATOR VON BUELOW IS SLAIN IN AIR DUEL

Paris, May 29.—Aviator Lieutenant Von Buelow, believed to be a relative of Prince Von Buelow, the German minister at Washington, was killed near Lismes, according to the Matin in an air duel with a French aviator. The French pilot, describing the battle, said: "Wednesday morning, I saw an Albatross, machine, coming from the German lines headed for Paris, and I gave chase. It was 8,000 feet up, I went up to 9,000 feet, rapidly overhauling him. At the last moment, he was now less than 30 feet from the Albatross, but we were under shell fire, and he was overhauling me. I put a bullet in the shoulder, but it did not prevent me from continuing the chase. The Germans tried to escape by dropping, but I flew over them again. Apparently one of them was wounded. Suddenly my Albatross got into a volley at point blank range and the Albatross, bloodied and shuddering, nosed downward. I felt for the earth. We followed them with our eyes. When the machine struck the earth it seemed to crumple into a ball and bounced along the hillside like a wounded rabbit running. We followed them down descending in swirls. The pilot lay some yards away, where he had been thrown out while the observer was crushed under the engine. In one of his pockets we found a paper bearing the name, Lieutenant Von Buelow, Imperial Guards, Berlin. We found in the wrecked aeroplane ten large bombs and 40 grenades. The pilot, given his choice of the Legion of Honor or the Military Medal, chose the latter."

FEAR BURNING SHIP WENT TO BOTTOM

San Francisco, May 29.—The fate of the steamer Maackinaw, reported after last night 20 miles north of the Golden Gate, was a matter of conjecture early today. No word had been received from the distressed vessel since a radio call for help, died away about 8 o'clock last night and although the steamer schooner Coronada was known to have started in response to the distress signals and the United States guard cutter McCulloch had been dispatched to her assistance, neither had reported early today. High seas and a seventy mile gale caused fear in marine circles that Captain W. C. Krebs and his officers have not been able to extinguish the flames or to take the Maackinaw safely to port. The crew composed mostly of the Chinese, numbers forty. The vessel left San Francisco at noon in ballast for Portland and carried no passengers. When she first called for help the vessel was off Point Reyes.

LOCUSTS ARE COMING, GOVERNMENT WARNS

Washington, May 29.—Warning of the expected reappearance of the 17-year locusts, technically known as Broad VI of the Cicada in the east in May and June, was issued today by the department of agriculture. Little actual damage to nurseries and young orchards is expected. While the expected brood is said not to be an important one, it covers much wider territory than any of the other 17-year broods. This particular insect is due to appear in scattered localities, covering much of the northern and central states lying between the Hudson and the Allegheny, extending along the Appalachian elevated plateau into northern Georgia and South Carolina. It made its last appearance in this particular territory in 1898.

GIANT SPY SYSTEM UNCOVERED IN ITALY

Italian Frontier, May 29.—(via Chiasso to Paris)—The spy machine which developed along the Italian-Austrian frontier, apparently is justified by the reported discovery of a carefully planned espionage system developed by Austrians and Germans, especially all through the Carlsberg region and along the Adriatic coast. Every summer many Austro-Hungarian have visited the towns, villages and fishing hamlets, finding lodgings in hotels and the homes of peasants. Most of the men amused themselves, it is said, by drawing, painting and taking photographs, while the women cultivated friendly relations with the natives who were their temporary neighbors. It is now believed that many of these visitors were playing a part in a great espionage organization. There is reason to believe also, the authorities declare, that large advertising signs erected along the railway lines, especially near important junctions, really were intended to provide directions for attacks of warships by means of a secret code. "Bugs" anchored off the coast are believed to have been designated to serve as range-finders for naval artillery. It is asserted that it was one of these prearranged plans which enabled an Austrian warship at Senigallia (75 miles northwest of Ancona) to fire with such accuracy as to strike a revolving railway bridge. A transport was passing when the shell struck and eight soldiers were killed while several others were wounded. Residents of Rimini maintain the Austrian squadron was signalled by dense columns of black smoke which poured from the chimneys of a factory in which Americans were employed. Signals are reported to have been given at Ancona by means of rockets fired from the dock of a German steamer. It is further reported that the German government claims to have learned the identity of these responsible and had them shot Thursday.

ANTI-ITALIAN RIOTS REPORTED IN TRIEST

Udine, May 28 (9:15 p. m., via Paris 29).—Reports from Trieste say that, according to reports received from Trieste, state that serious anti-Italian disorders are taking place in that city. The military authorities are said to have fled, leaving the civil government in the hands of a committee which has been unable to prevent vandalism. The building occupied by the Italian newspaper Piccolo, is reported to have been set on fire and several other buildings occupied by Italians have been sacked. It is reported that Austrian gendarmes have made little attempt to quell the disorders. Don't let another sun set with your WANT untold. Use the TIMES, which reaches over 9,000 homes every day.

WILL REMOVE BODIES FROM SUBMARINE F-4

Honolulu, May 29.—Owing to the discovery of a large hole in the side of the submarine F-4, submerged since March 25 on the floor of the ocean outside the harbor here, an attempt was to be made today to remove from the vessel the bodies of its crew of 21 men, to prevent possible mutilation by fish. The bulk is now within 24 feet of the surface. Towing and lifting operations were halted, and divers prepared to enter the bulk, and a barge was made ready to receive the bodies. The hole in the submarine, according to divers who made an inspection late yesterday, is at the point of junction of the vessel's forward and middle compartments. They removed a quantity of bedding from the hole, and brought it to the surface. Naval officers said the hole probably was caused by constant pounding of the bulk on the ocean floor in the heavy seas of the last few days. Another theory advanced is that the hole was caused by an explosion that wrecked the submarine and brought quick death to its crew.

GERMANY'S REPLY TO BE PUBLISHED SUNDAY

Washington, May 29.—Germany's reply to the American note regarding the destruction of the Lusitania was being awaited today by administration officials with keen interest. It was to be handed to Ambassador Gerard in Berlin today, who it was believed here would immediately cable it to the state department. The official information received here said the reply would be given to the German press tomorrow for publication. It probably will be given out here for publication at the same time. Unofficial advice said the reply would embody the proposal to the United States to defer to definite consideration of Germany's submarine policy and the American demands until the two governments have had an opportunity to determine just what sort of vessel was sunk—whether the Lusitania was a peaceful merchantman, as assumed in the American note, or an auxiliary cruiser on the British navy list mounting concealed cannon and carrying munitions of war as indicated by information the German government claims to have.

HATFIELD, LEADER OF FEUD, ILL

Charleston, W. Va., May 29.—Auss Hatfield, leader of the Hatfield clan in the famous feud with the McCoy family of Kentucky and West Virginia, and known the country over as "Devil" Ausie, is seriously ill at his home in the mountain town of "Island" Creek. Logan county, according to reports received here. Since the feud ended, about 15 years ago, Hatfield has been active in the pursuit of a fortune. He is a year ago he came here to enter a vendetta, but after appearing several times at a local theatre he found that an old Federal court order prohibited him from leaving the state, so he returned to his native home.

THE ACCEPTED TIME IS NOW.

Portsmouth, Ohio, May 24, 1915.

Editors, Portsmouth Daily Times.

You seem to stand for good things always through the columns of your paper. Will you not come to the aid of Portsmouth just now and with the help of your many friends, save what seems to be ruthlessly destroyed? We refer to the tract of land north of Attorney Theo. K. Funk's property and northeast of "Sunnyside," extending to the Boulevard road.

Portsmouth seems destined to become a large city sometime. When it is too late she may find herself as other cities have, confronted by the park problem and then at great expense and need less destruction of perfectly good property, attempt to make a good looking park on level ground.

Many who have traveled extensively not only in America, but also abroad say that the views from various spots in this section, at different times of the day when the lights and shadows bring out the wonderful beauty of the Kentucky hills and of the Ohio country for miles around, equal anything that may be found, not excepting the Alps in Switzerland.

We thought it a terrible loss when "Sunnyside" was opened up at the expense of the beautiful old trees and hills that money nor time can replace, but it seems a criminal thing to do if this last section of such character that is within walking distance of Portsmouth people, is torn down and made into city lots.

Much is said just now of keeping the dollar at home. Why not keep some of the beauty and health giving resources also?

Our people are running off to Colorado, to the Canadian Rockies, to California and elsewhere and say that they suffer a keen disappointment to find much advertised places very ordinary compared to such beauty as is given in this one section in winter as well as summer.

Had California or anyone of numerous other places such a tract, they would guard jealously the homelands and see to it that no man added anything to mar its natural form and beauty, and with a bit of advertising would make such a place become of national fame.

Hundreds of people are willing to support this movement we believe. We want to keep our people from going money mad and then running away to spend that money.

The city will soon run beyond the Boulevard. Why not let it go there now, rather than destroy this which could never in all the world be replaced and if it were gone, there is absolutely no other such place available.

Why does humanity wait for death to come before they can become generous in word and deed? Why do we erect so many useless monuments that are of questionable value? What a monument, such a gift to Portsmouth's living population this would be to any man or group of men who will bring about the transaction.

We feel confident that the men who own this land are public spirited and great enough to make the necessary steps practicable.

It simply must be saved, and what you do, do quickly for the surveyors are rapidly staking it off and we shudder to think how short the time might be until all would be lost forever.

Yours for a greater, more beautiful Portsmouth.

A GROUP OF CITIZENS.

We must say we never, in all our newspaper career, had presented an appeal that takes such powerful hold upon us as this. Not alone because we are in such acute sympathy with the suggestion, but because it is so convincingly put. Columns might be written on the same subject, but they could add nothing in effectiveness to what our friends have put in a fewer words and fewer paragraphs.

If anyone believe their language overdrawn we suggest to him that he visit the site referred to three times, in the early morn, at the noon time and at sunset. Travel the world over and no where else will nature unfold a panorama that will take such intense and penetrating hold upon his memory and his soul. We know, because we have seen much of that which is accounted the world's grandest and most beautiful scenery, but never have we beheld that which took such haunting hold upon us as this. In joy and in sorrow, in health and in sickness, through the years that have brought change and even much of forgetfulness, it has been a vivid, abiding memory, aye, a presence that has ever been sweet and sojourn. The hills, the valleys, the rivers, the green, the golden, the silver, ever changing, ever coming and going, yet always the same, always steadfast, the eternal smile of welcome in the waving of boughs, the rippling of the waters and the whisperings of the winds.

HIS MISSION.

IT SEEMS THAT THE PRINCIPLES OF CHRISTIAN LOVE AND BROTHERHOOD, BANISHED FROM EUROPE HAD TO CROSS THE OCEAN IN SEARCH OF REFUGE AND THEY FOUND IT IN THE HEART OF AMERICAN CITIZENS. THEIR GENEROSITY HAS SAVED THOUSANDS FROM STARVATION, BUT THE TASK OF AMERICA IS NOT YET ACCOMPLISHED. WITH GOD'S HELP SHE WILL BECOME THE CONSCIENCE OF THE WORLD AND WILL PROPAGATE THE IDEAS OF JUSTICE, SUCH AS THE TRIUMPH OF LAW OVER FORCE, AND THE RESTITUTION OF FREEDOM TO ALL OPPRESSED NATIONS—THE REALIZATION OF THOSE PRINCIPLES BEING THE SOLE GUARANTEE OF LASTING PEACE AND OF A HAPPY FUTURE FOR MANKIND. IT IS A DIFFICULT TASK, BUT THE AMERICAN NATION IS GENEROUS AND POWERFUL ENOUGH TO ACCOMPLISH IT.

PARDON A BIT O' PRIDE IN SAYIN' SO, BUT THAT HAS BEEN MY IDEA ALONG

Verily, it is a priceless gift that nature has set right at our door. Can you will not something be done to preserve it so that there for, a time, nature's children may come closer to her?

AND NOW THE FIGURES.

Figures will not lie, but men that figure, sometimes will give them queer twist.

In the last ill-starred campaign a certain individual went tearing over the state that the Cox machine had bankrupted the state and the treasury was somewhat drier than old time powder horn. Now just listen to the figures. Treasurer Archer has just issued the official statement of the transaction of his office for the past six months. These show that more interest had been received during that period than in any other like one since Ohio had a state treasury. The total receipts—interest on cash on hand, mind you—$237,240.62. It doesn't take a financier to understand that a sum which, in six months, will bring the magnificent total of near a quarter of a million dollars of interest in six months, especially when the rate runs as low as 2 per cent and not as high as five, must be a colossal one. As yet the particular individual, who bewailed the bankruptcy of the treasury by the wicked Cox offers no explanation and no apology for his deception, though he does much plume himself on being altogether good.

The ex-convict office is still insisting that the contractors shall turn over a water works what will work. Such persistency is not only to be admired, but it makes more flagrant the happy-go-lucky way in which another administration allowed the contractors not to do their work.

One lustrous prediction shines through the clouds of war and that is the apple crop is to be bigger this year than ever. If monkeys and princes would contract the habit of eating at least two apples every night before going to bed there would be no wars.

There are four thousand languages spoken on earth. We have known occasions when all their oburgations, if we had had them at command, would have been inadequate to proper expression.

Big, lusty Uncle Sam says to the Kaiser: What are you summing my people for and all the little fellows from Switzerland to Sweden pipe "No too!"

Mr. Bierley To Sell Lots

Mr. A. Bierley will go to Columbus the first of the week to dispose of lots he owns in the Capital City.

Standard Oil Man Here

Orlan Overman, a representative of the Standard Oil Company, of Columbus, was a business visitor in Portsmouth yesterday. He made arrangements for the installation of a new sub-station at South Webster Thursday afternoon.

It is said a man can not lift himself by pulling on his own bootstraps, but we see something akin to him doing so in Italy going to war. She was ever trying to get in by holding herself back and now she is in up to her neck.

From this distance it looks like Prexy Thompson has been pretty busy through the winter and the spring putting the Ohio State University and himself into politics. That's bad for the university, but as time rolls on it is going to be much worse for one Thompson.

Notwithstanding both the urgent invitation and the threat of our good young governor those pesky Democrats continue to hold onto their jobs.

Vinton, the poorest county in the state, may yet get a bright spot on the map. Several big oil and gas wells have been driven therein lately.

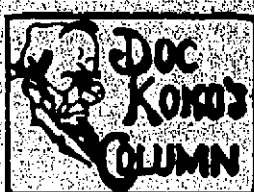

True enough the verdict of the jury went against Barnes, but the case showed enough to the people for them to make the decision against Roosevelt.

Just like finding money—entering The Times' corn growing contests. Everybody is sure to win and none can lose.

Even the worst must end sometime. The legislature makes final adjournment today.

Swat the Fly

(To the tune of "Billy Boy")
 If you want to be in style,
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 And you think it is worth while,
 To protect the things you eat,
 From their dirty little feet,
 On the butter and meat,
 "Swat the fly."

If you want to go to war,
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 And don't care to go so far,
 "Swat the fly,"
 You can have a job at home
 Swatting all the flies that come,
 And that will be "going some,"
 "Swat the fly."

If you want the city clean,
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 And you think it "dirty mean,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 That your neighbor's garbage can
 Is a filthy old tin pan,
 You can keep yours "spick and span,"
 "Swat the fly."

Is the slogan up to date?
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 "Swat the fly,"
 Post it up in every state,
 "Swat the fly,"
 It is good, nevertheless,
 To bring our town business,
 And help "Share Portsmouth" Success,
 "Swat the fly."

Will and Won't

A mule balked in front of our building the other morning. The negro in the wagon got out after futile attempts to get the mule started. Checkley was watching from the window.

"Are you going to let that mule do as he pleases?" he called jestingly. "Wier's your will power!"

"Agh, will now's all right, boss," retorted the negro. "You see, want to come out lyah, an' measure 'is head' little, won't power." —Kamrod.

His Translation

"I understand, Caddybump, that your wife is convalescing," said kindly Mrs. White. "No, mon, if yo' please, and t'anky for de 'terrogation," politely replied the colored man.

New York, May 24.—Money as Ronald Wolf would say, being coy and reluctant among the richer set this past year has driven thousands from hand-made apartments in New York to hotel suites. When Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who lost his life on the Lusitania, built the Hotel Vanderbilt, he set the pace for a lot of folk who hesitated to live in hotels.

Vanderbilt made the entire top floor of his hotel his New York home and when the Vanderbilts do anything here it is certain that a lot of others are going to follow suit. When a lot of incomes were curtailed, there was a grand rush from the big, luxurious apartments to the three- or four room suites in hotels.

The custom has become very popular and while it has been a financial wallop for the apartment house owners, it has been the means of keeping a lot of the first class hotels out of bankruptcy.

Mike Donlin, the eminent Thespian and bunc ball star, has been captured by the movies. Next month Mike will take up acting for the screen in a base ball story written by Hazen Bulger, base ball editor of The World.

The film play will be the first production of a new film company called The Reel Photo-Play Company which has been incorporated and is going to put out some hummer films. Mike was being congratulated by his friends at the Friars on his new job the other day. He also told a good yarn.

In the days of "Ed. Deleahanty," that star hit a home run in Cincinnati that looked like it would never come down.

Jack Powell watched the sphere until it disappeared, and shook his head. "Geel," he said, "I wish I had that home run into singles. I'd lead the league in batting."
